

Stronger Together

SUPPORT FOR YOUR FIREFIGHTER—AND YOU

Firefighters face repeated exposure to stress and trauma. That impact doesn't stay at the station—it can show up at home.

How You Can Help

RECOGNIZING EARLY CHANGES

ENCOURAGING SUPPORT

STAYING CONNECTED THROUGH DIFFICULT SEASONS

What You May Notice

IRRITABILITY, ANGER, OR WITHDRAWAL

SADNESS, ANXIETY, OR NUMBNESS

LOSS OF INTEREST IN THINGS THEY USED TO ENJOY

EMOTIONAL CHANGES

BEHAVIOR CHANGES

WORK-TO-HOME SPOILLOVER

SLEEPING TOO MUCH OR TOO LITTLE

INCREASED ALCOHOL OR SUBSTANCE USE

AVOIDING CONVERSATIONS OR ISOLATING

BRINGING STRESS FROM CALLS HOME

DIFFICULTY RELAXING OR "TURNING IT OFF"

TALKING LESS (OR NOT AT ALL) ABOUT WORK

How Families Can Help

Stay Connected

KEEP COMMUNICATION OPEN—
EVEN WHEN IT'S HARD.

Ask, Don't Assume

SIMPLE CHECK-INS MATTER:
“HEY, I’VE NOTICED YOU SEEM OFF—WANT TO TALK?”

Normalize Support

SEEKING HELP IS PART OF
STAYING STRONG—NOT A SIGN OF WEAKNESS.

Take Care of Yourself Too

YOUR WELLBEING
MATTERS TOO.

Act Immediately If You Notice

- TALKING ABOUT WANTING TO DIE OR FEELING LIKE A BURDEN
- EXTREME WITHDRAWAL OR HOPELESSNESS
- RISKY OR UNSAFE BEHAVIOR
- SUDDEN MAJOR CHANGES IN MOOD OR BEHAVIOR

You are part of the team—and your support makes a difference.
